PART I – OVERVIEW

1. The applicants seek judicial review of decisions to approve funding and undertake to issue a licence for a new long-term care home in Pickering. The Minister of Long-Term Care (the "Minister") determined it was in the public interest to increase the number of long-term care beds in Pickering. The Director in the Ministry appointed to exercise licensing related powers under Part VIII (Licensing) of the Fixing Long-Term Care Act, 2021,<sup>1</sup> (the "Act"), which was the Director of Capital Planning Branch, (the "Director") gave the proponent of the new home, Southbridge, a conditional undertaking to issue it a licence, subject to meeting applicable conditions.

2. Southbridge currently operates a long-term care home in Pickering known as Orchard Villa. It applied for approval to build a new, expanded home in Pickering twice: first in 2019 and again in 2021. The applicants challenge the approval of that second application; they do not challenge the Minister's approval of the first application.

3. The Minister did not prejudge his decision to approve Southbridge's second application. Everything the applicants complain of flowed from the Minister's decision to approve the first application.

4. The applicants' case is fatally flawed. They are strangers to the regulatory process and lack standing to bring this application. Their attack on the Director's decision to give an undertaking is premature: an undertaking to issue a licence at some point in the future is an interim step that does not entitle a proponent to operate a long-term care home.

5. Nor does the applicants' case have substantive merit. The impugned decisions complied with the governing legislation, did not engage Charter values, and were reasonable. The applicants were not deprived of procedural fairness.

6. This application should be dismissed, with costs to the respondent.

PART II – FACTS

7. The Ministry of Long-Term Care has announced several calls for applications for longterm care bed allocations since 2018. Through those processes, the Ministry has issued tranches of funding for new and redeveloped beds in various parts of the province.<sup>2</sup>

8. Southbridge applied for capital funding in response to a call for applications in 2019 (the "2019 Application").<sup>3</sup> In its application, Southbridge sought funding approval for construction of a new long-term care home in Pickering, to replace its current, smaller home. The Minister approved that application in November 2020.

9. Southbridge applied for funding again in response to a call for applications in 2021 (the "2021 Application"), which was further revised in March 2023. That second application was for a larger number of new beds than were approved in 2020 and under an updated capital funding policy. It was not prompted by a change in corporate ownership, as the applicants suggest although the revision reflected the change in the composition of the limited partnership.<sup>4</sup> That second funding application was approved in June 2023, and the 2019 Application was set aside.

Southbridge had made a previous funding application in 2017: see Application for the Enhanced Long-Term Care Home Renewal Strategy submitted by CVH (No 6) GP Inc, as the general partner of CVH (No 6) LP, Record of Decision, Volume 1, Tabs 1A-N, pp. 1-209.

A. Southbridge's Performance at Orchard Villa Improved After 2020

10. Like other long-term care homes in Ontario, Southbridge's Orchard Villa home struggled with a COVID outbreak in the spring of 2020.

11. Southbridge did not manage Orchard Villa at the time of the outbreak; the home was managed by a management company, Extendicare Canada Inc. ("Extendicare").<sup>5</sup> The Ministry noted at the time that Ontario had requested the assistance of the Canadian Armed Forces ("CAF") to combat the outbreak, and that the CAF had provided a report outlining a number of serious concerns its members had observed at Orchard Villa.<sup>6</sup>

12. In June 2020, the Director withdrew approval for Southbridge's management contract with Extendicare and approved a new management contract for Orchard Villa to be managed by Lakeridge Health, a public hospital corporation, to stabilize the home and to manage the outbreak.<sup>7</sup>

13. Following Lakeridge health's stabilization of Orchard Villa , the Ministry approved a transition plan to ensure that the home would be managed in a way that would minimize the risk of further outbreaks.

14. The Ministry's data, discussed below, show a marked improvement in Orchard Villa's performance after the outbreak in 2020, after the removal of Extendicare as manager.<sup>8</sup>

B. The Fixing Long-Term Care Act, 2021

1) The Act Gives the Minister and Director Broad Discretion

15. Part VIII of the Act governs licencing of the long-term care sector in Ontario.

16. A licence is required to operate residential premises for persons requiring nursing care in Ontario. With some exceptions, it is an offence to do so without a licence.<sup>9</sup> An undertaking to issue a licence, discussed below, does not authorise a person to operate a long-term care home.

17. As part of the licencing process, the Minister is required to determine whether or not there should be a long-term care home in a particular area, and how many long-term care beds should be in that area, by "considering what is in the public interest" in that regard. The Act sets out in s. 99(1) the factors that the Minister should take into account in her consideration of the public interest, including the existing long-term care bed capacity in the area, the other facilities and services available, current and predicted demand, available funding, and "any other matters that the Minister considers to be relevant."<sup>10</sup>

18. The Minister has the discretion to restrict who may be issued a licence based on her determination of the public interest. The Legislature has set out in s. 100(1) the factors the Minister must consider in her determination of the public interest for the purposes of that section: the effect of issuing a licence on the concentration of ownership in the sector and the balance between non-profit and for-profit operators.<sup>11</sup> The Minister is not permitted to consider any other factors except those that are prescribed by the Regulation for this purpose, and no such other factors have been prescribed.<sup>12</sup>

19. The Act provides that a person is only eligible for a licence if, "in the Director's opinion", they meet a number of enumerated requirements focused on the likelihood that the licensee will operate the home in a competent manner consistent with the Act and other applicable law.<sup>13</sup>

20. Following a Minister's determination of need for a long-term care home, and of whether any restrictions are needed on who can be a licensee, and subject to the other requirements in the Act, the Director, if willing, may do one of two things: issue a licence,<sup>14</sup> or give an undertaking to issue a licence on condition that the proposed licensee agrees to satisfy the conditions specified in the undertaking.<sup>15</sup> In the latter case, the Director must issue a licence if she determines that the proposed licensee has complied with the conditions.<sup>16</sup> If she determines that the proponent has not complied with the conditions, she may refuse to issue a licence.<sup>17</sup> The proponent may seek review of that refusal by the Minister.<sup>18</sup>

21. The Act provides that "anything done" by the Minister or the Director under Part VIII with respect to ss. 99 (determination of need based on public interest) and 100 (restrictions on who can be a licensee) is "within the sole discretion of the Minister or Director" and not subject to appeal.<sup>19</sup> Decisions of the Director under Part VIII with respect to conditions of a licence are within the Director's "sole discretion" and are not subject to appeal.<sup>20</sup>

22. Eligibility for a licence is restricted to those who, "in the Director's opinion", meet a list of enumerated criteria set out in s. 101(1) of the Act.<sup>21</sup> A proposed licensee is not required to meet the s. 101 criteria at the time it receives an undertaking to grant a licence; it need only satisfy those criteria at the point it is to be issued a licence.

2) The Director Has the Discretion to Decide How to Consult the Public

23. Generally, the Director must consult the public before issuing or undertaking to issue a licence.<sup>22</sup> The Act gives the Director the discretion to determine how public consultations will be conducted.<sup>23</sup>

C. The Impugned Decisions

24. The applicants take issue with decisions of the Director, both taken in June 2023 in connection with the 2021 Application as revised. However, the determinations made in the course of assessing the 2019 Application formed a part of the decision-making process for the impugned decisions.

1) The Minister Considered the Public Interest Three Times

25. The Minister first considered the public interest relating to Southbridge's application to build a new home in Pickering before  $she^{24}$  approved the 2019 Application. In weighing the public interest, the Minister considered the factors set out in ss. 96 and 97 of the Long-Term Care Homes Act, 2007,<sup>25</sup> the predecessor to the Act. The decision package prepared for the Minister set out a detailed consideration of the need for beds,<sup>26</sup> and whether restrictions were needed on who could be a licensee based on considerations of concentration of ownership,<sup>27</sup> and the sector balance between for-profit and non-profit operators.<sup>28</sup>

26. Although not required by statute, the decision package included reference to the COVID outbreak at Orchard Villa (under the management of Extendicare) and the fact that it had both entered into a voluntary management agreement with a local hospital (replacing Extendicare as the external manager of the home) and required military assistance.<sup>29</sup>

27. The Minister<sup>30</sup> considered the public interest a second time before the Director approved the transfer of Southbridge's licence for Orchard Villa as part of a corporate reorganization.<sup>31</sup>

28. The Minister considered the public interest a third time before he approved the 2021 Application. Again, the decision package prepared for the Minister set out a consideration of the need for beds,<sup>32</sup> and whether restrictions were needed on who could be a licensee based on considerations of concentration of ownership,<sup>33</sup> and the sector balance between for-profit and non-profit operators.<sup>34</sup>

2) The Director Provided an Undertaking to Issue a Licence

29. The Director did not issue Southbridge a licence. Instead, she considered a recommendation to provide an undertaking to issue a licence, with conditions.

30. The Long-Term Care Inspection Branch provided two assessments in response to Southbridge's application. In November 2020, the Ministry's Capital Planning Branch noted that Inspection Branch had expressed concerns about Southbridge, noting that the home had required a management contract with Lakeridge Health (replacing its management contract with Extendicare) and military assistance during a COVID outbreak.<sup>35</sup>

31. In October 2021, the Inspection Branch revised its view, with the following context:

Orchard Villa received support from the Canadian Armed Forces (CAF) during Wave 1 of the pandemic. Additionally the licensee entered into a [voluntary management contract] for 90 days with Lakeridge Hospital from June 12, 2020 to September 10, 2020. Over the past year the home has shown improvement by establishing sufficient staffing levels and stable leadership. The home has received minimal non-compliances in the past year.<sup>36</sup>

32. That assessment was consistent with the compliance data available to the Ministry.<sup>37</sup>

33. The staff of the Capital Planning Branch (responsible for licensing matters) noted<sup>38</sup> the input from the Inspection Branch, which included information provided in May 2023 indicating that at that point there were concerns about an outstanding compliance order for the current home.<sup>39</sup> As a result in part of that input, the staff of Capital Planning Branch recommended that the Director give an undertaking to issue a licence with additional conditions.<sup>40</sup>

34. The Director implemented her staff's recommendation and gave an undertaking to issue a licence. The undertaking included four statutorily prescribed conditions and 13 additional conditions, including:

- that Southbridge maintain compliance in the existing home and self-manage the proposed home;
- that it be required to hire a management company other than Extendicare if Southbridge's self management of the proposed home proved incapable of maintaining compliance;
- that it retain a hospital or not-for-profit entity to provide ongoing clinical support at the proposed home; and

- that the Inspections Branch maintain a regular and proactive inspection schedule of the existing home until the licence for the proposed home would be issued.<sup>41</sup>
- 35. The Director has not issued a licence to Southbridge for the proposed home.

3) Two Rounds of Public Consultation

36. On May 4, 2021, the Director determined that public consultation was required in relation to any decision to undertake to issue a licence to Southbridge.<sup>42</sup> That consultation was conducted in accordance with s. 106 of the Long-Term Care Homes Act, 2007 (the "Prior Act").<sup>43</sup>

37. Members of the public had an opportunity to present their views at public meeting held by teleconference on July 15, 2021 and in writing.<sup>44</sup> Catherine Parkes participated in the public meeting<sup>45</sup> and subsequently submitted comments in writing to the Ministry.<sup>46</sup> The Ontario Health Coalition (the "Coalition"), which retained legal counsel for the purposes of the public consultation,<sup>47</sup> delivered a 44-page petition<sup>48</sup> that was expressly referenced in the summary of public feedback prepared for the Director.<sup>49</sup>

38. In 2022, the Director held a further public consultation in accordance with s. 109 of the Act as a result of the proposed licence transfer necessary to enable a proposed change to Southbridge's corporate composition (as a limited partnership).<sup>50</sup> Members of the public had the opportunity to provide their views to the Ministry in writing,<sup>51</sup> and Catherine Parkes and the Coalition both did so.<sup>52</sup> Materials prepared for the Director and the Minister noted that public comment was mostly directed to "Orchard Villa's performance during the COVID-19 pandemic."<sup>53</sup> The Ministry determined that any undertaking to issue Southbridge a licence could be made subject to appropriate conditions "to address public concerns."<sup>54</sup>

39. The applicants argue repeatedly<sup>55</sup> that the Minister and Director were required to have considered a report of the provincial Ombudsman, prepared following an investigation into the Ministry's oversight of long-term care homes during the C OVID-19 pandemic.

40. The Ombudsman's report was released in September 2023, roughly three months after the impugned decisions were taken.

PART III – ISSUES AND THE LAW

41. There are six issues on this application:

- i. Do the applicants have standing to bring this application?
- ii. Is the application premature?
- iii. Are the impugned decisions unreasonable?
- iv. Were the applicants denied procedural fairness?
- v. Is the Director's decision inconsistent with Charter values?
- vi. Are the applicants' requested remedies appropriate?

42. The respondent submits, for the reasons set out below, that the applicants lack standing to bring this application, which in any event is premature and that the balance of those questions should be answered in the negative.

A. Preliminary Issues

1) Evidentiary Objections

43. The respondent maintains the objections to the applicants' evidence, as set out in the accompanying motion to strike portions of the applicants' evidence. While the respondent agrees that Catherine Parkes' affidavit is admissible on the issue of standing, paragraphs 2 - 22 of her affidavit are otherwise irrelevant and impermissible extrinsic evidence on the application.

2) The Coalition and Catherine Parkes Lack Standing to Bring this Application

44. The applicants have the onus of establishing their standing to bring this application.<sup>56</sup> They do not satisfy the tests for either private interest or public interest standing.

a. No private interest standing

45. To establish private interest standing, a party must have a "special" or "direct, personal interest" in the subject matter of the proceeding.<sup>57</sup> In other words, "review of administrative action is reserved for that class of citizen that is found to have a sufficient legally recognized interest in the matter to justify the judicial review application."<sup>58</sup>

46. The decision under review must affect the party's legal rights or obligations more than those of the general public.<sup>59</sup> Being an "interested observer" or having a "sense of grievance" does not suffice.<sup>60</sup> The category of rights that may qualify as direct, personal interests is not closed;<sup>61</sup> personal, economic and property interests have traditionally been so recognized.<sup>62</sup>

47. The Coalition, in its self-description, represents more than 500 member organizations and 750,000 citizens.<sup>63</sup> Acting in this representative capacity, the Coalition has no personal legal interest in the impugned decisions.<sup>64</sup> If the Coalition seeks to bring this application, it must do so on the basis of public interest standing.<sup>65</sup>

48. Ms. Parkes also lacks private interest standing. While she participated in public consultation processes conducted by the Ministry, that fact alone does not confer her standing before this Court.<sup>66</sup> This is consistent with the principle that a party who participated in a tribunal proceeding does not automatically have standing to challenge the resulting decision.<sup>67</sup> Standing before the reviewing court turns on whether the party has a direct, person interest in the subject matter of the application.<sup>68</sup>

49. Ms. Parkes fails to identify any such interest in her affidavit, the bulk of which addresses her father's experience prior to his passing.<sup>69</sup> Her concerns regarding Orchard Villa's past operation and management are not legally cognizable interests entitling her to bring this application for judicial review as of right. Any "satisfaction of righting a wrong" or "upholding a principle" that Ms. Parkes would gain does not suffice to establish private interest standing.<sup>70</sup>

b. No public interest standing

50. Public interest standing "is not to be granted lightly by the courts."<sup>71</sup>

51. In exercising its discretion to grant or deny public interest standing, a court must assess and weigh three factors: (i) whether the party bringing the action has a genuine interest in the matter; (ii) whether the case raises a serious justiciable issue; (iii) whether the proposed suit is a reasonable and effective means of bringing the case to court.<sup>72</sup> In considering these overlapping factors,<sup>73</sup> the court must "strike a meaningful balance between the purposes that favour granting standing and those that favour limiting it."<sup>74</sup>

52. In light of these factors and purposes, the applicants should be refused public interest standing to bring this application.

i. No serious issue

Without more, the reasonableness of a licencing decision made by a decision-maker, including a Minister, within their home statute does not raise serious issues.<sup>78</sup>

54. The issues raised by this judicial review application are not of sufficient importance. As in Accettone, in which this Court declined to grant the applicant public interest standing, "the issue is one entity's operation and whether the decision to grant it a conditional licence [undertaking] should be quashed."<sup>79</sup> The Applicants have not established, nor do they allege, any repercussions of the decisions under review for the long-term care home industry or the public at large. As the Applicants acknowledge in their factum,<sup>80</sup> their challenge to the reasonableness of the decisions at issue is fact-based.

55. This judicial review application does not raise any serious issues for an additional reason, namely, it is premature.<sup>81</sup>

ii. The application is not a reasonable and effective means of challenging Southbridge's ability to develop and operate a new long-term care home

56. Absent exceptional circumstances, judicial intervention in an ongoing administrative process is not a reasonable and effective means of bringing a matter to court.<sup>82</sup> This is because hearing a premature application for judicial review is not "an economical use of judicial resources" and does not lend to "the issues [being] presented in a context suitable for judicial determination in an adversarial setting."<sup>83</sup>

57. Adopting a "practical and pragmatic" approach,<sup>84</sup> insofar as the applicants challenge Southbridge's ability to develop a new long-term care home, they should pursue the matter on judicial review if or when Southbridge is actually licenced to do so.

iii. Conclusion on public interest standing

58. As the authorities confirm, "not every breach of the law attracts judicial scrutiny because not every transgression warrants legal attention that is constrained by available resources."<sup>85</sup>

59. While judicial review ensures the legality of state decision-making,<sup>86</sup> courts exhibit restraint before intervening in an ongoing process out of respect for the legislature's choice to delegate decision-making to administrative actors.<sup>87</sup> Balancing the legality principle against the proper judicial role,<sup>88</sup> this Court should decline to grant the applicants public interest standing.

60. The applicants' attack on the Director's decision is premature. The applicants challenge the Director's decision to give an undertaking to issue a licence pursuant to s. 103 of the Act. As noted above, no licence has been issued for the proposed new home.

61. The issuance of an undertaking is an interim step under the licencing regime created by Part VIII of the Act. Only if the Director ultimately determines that the proponent has met the conditions attached to the undertaking will the proponent receive a licence. If the Director refuses to issue a licence, the proponent – in this case, Southbridge – can appeal to the Minister.

62. It is well established that, absent exceptional circumstances, courts should not interfere with an ongoing administrative process until it has run its course.<sup>89</sup>

C. The Standard of Review is Reasonableness

63. The respondent agrees that the standard of review for the decisions of the Minister and Director is reasonableness.<sup>90</sup>

64. There is no standard of review applicable to matters of procedural fairness: either the procedure is fair or it is not, and the Court must determine whether the required level of procedural fairness has been accorded.<sup>91</sup>

D. The Impugned Decisions Are Reasonable

1) The Minister's Decision was not Predetermined

65. The sole basis for the applicants' argument that the Minister's decision was unreasonable is the claim that the Minister had predetermined the matter before deciding. This is unfounded.

a. Decision-Makers are Presumed to be Impartial

66. The level of impartiality required of a decision-maker exercising broad regulatory powers is that of an "open mind."<sup>92</sup> Disqualifying bias exists only where there the applicant establishes "a prejudgment of the matter, in fact, to the extent that any representations at variance with the view, which has been adopted, would be futile."<sup>93</sup>

67. The threshold is high given that decision-makers are presumed to be impartial.<sup>94</sup> Cogent evidence, as opposed to mere suspicion, is required to displace this presumption.<sup>95</sup> The only evidence the applicants point to in support of their allegations are decisions taken pursuant to the Minister's approval of Southbridge's first capital funding application.

b. No Predetermination of the Public Interest Issue

68. As discussed above, the Minister first considered the public interest under ss. 96 and 97 of the Long-Term Care Homes Act, 2007 in 2020, prior to her approval of Southbridge's 2019 Application for funding. The applicants ignore that history and context by complaining<sup>96</sup> that the Minister provided funding for the project before considering the public interest as part of the 2021 Application.

69. The Minister did not predetermine the issue of public interest by approving the 2019 Application. The determination of specific issues taking into account the public interest within the scope of ss. 96 and 97 of the Prior Act was, as the applicants note, central to the Minister's decision to approve the first capital funding application.

70. The applicants' reliance<sup>97</sup> on the ministerial zoning order ("MZO") as further proof of the Minister's having predetermined his decision ignores the fact that the MZO was issued by the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing.

2) The Director's Decision to Give an Undertaking Was Reasonable

a. The Director Complied with the Act

71. The Director's decision to give an undertaking to issue a licence was consistent with Part VIII of the Act.

72. The staff of the Capital Planning Branch (responsible for licensing matters) consulted with the Inspections Branch prior to recommending the Director of the Branch to give an undertaking. As discussed, the decision package before the Director noted that the Inspections Branch had concerns about an outstanding compliance order at the home. Given that the decision to give an undertaking was a preliminary, interim step in the licensing process, that inquiry of the Inspections Branch was sufficient.

73. Moreover, the Act did not require the Director to conclude that Southbridge was eligible to receive a licence at the time she gave the undertaking. Section 103 provides that the Director may, "subject to s. 101" (inter alia), give an undertaking to issue a licence to a person on condition that the person agrees to satisfy the specified conditions set out in the undertaking. Section 101 provides that a person is only eligible "to be issued a licence" if the Director is of the opinion that they will meet the defined criteria, all of which are concerned with the likelihood that the home will be operated by the licensee with integrity, in a competent and honest manner consistent with the Act and other applicable law, that will not be prejudicial to the health, safety or welfare of its residents. Read together with s. 101, all s. 103 requires to give an undertaking is that the Director be of the opinion the proponent will meet the s. 101 criteria by the time the licence is to be issued.

74. As discussed above, the Director imposed a long list of conditions on the undertaking, including that Southbridge maintain compliance in the existing home and self-manage the proposed home, and imposing inspections every two months. A failure by Southbridge to meet any of those conditions could be grounds to both cancel the undertaking<sup>98</sup> or conclude that Southbridge did not meet the s. 101 criteria, resulting in no licence being able to be issued.

75. Finally, while the Legislature has enumerated in s. 101 the various criteria that a proposed licensee must meet to qualify for a licence, it has not identified particular documents that must be reviewed. There is no basis for the applicants' argument that s. 101 required the Director to consider their preferred list of reports before deciding to give an undertaking.

b. The Director's Decision is Transparent, Intelligible and Justified

76. When read in light of the material before her, the Director's decision to give an undertaking is reasonable.

77. The respondent agrees that an administrative decisionmaker's reasons, where required, must be transparent, intelligible and justified. Specifically, a decisionmaker's reasons must be intelligible and justified to the party affected by the decision.<sup>99</sup>

78. The reasonableness of a decision must be read in the context and history of the proceedings. That includes reviewing the material that was before the decisionmaker, which may explain an aspect of the reasoning process that is not apparent from the reasons themselves.<sup>100</sup>

79. The intended audience of the Director's decision to give an undertaking was Southbridge, the party affected by that decision. Southbridge was aware of the issues before the Director when she made her decision, including its regulatory record, and could clearly discern from the decision letter the terms of her decision. Southbridge has not sought to challenge the conditions attached to the undertaking, or otherwise suggested that the Director's decision was unreasonable.

80. That the applicants, who are strangers to the licensing process, say they cannot discern the logic of the Director's decision is not determinative of its reasonableness.

c. The Director's Decision Does not Engage the Doré Framework

81. The Doré framework applies where a discretionary administrative decision engages Charter protections, either by infringing Charter rights or limiting the values underlying them.<sup>101</sup>

As a threshold matter or "preliminary question," a reviewing court must therefore consider whether "any limitations are imposed on Charter values."<sup>102</sup>

82. On this application, the decisions at issue do not impose any limitations on any Charter values because the licencing process is ongoing.

83. Each case where the Supreme Court of Canada held that the Doré framework applied involved the outcome of a completed administrative process. Doré involved a sanction imposed against a lawyer after a hearing before the disciplinary Council of a law society.<sup>103</sup> Loyola concerned a high school's denial of an exemption from teaching a mandatory curriculum following a series of exchanges with the Minister.<sup>104</sup> In Trinity Western, a law society refused accreditation to a proposed law school after benchers voted to affirm the results of a binding referendum of licensees.<sup>105</sup> Finally, in Commission scolaire, the Minister declined to admit five children to a French first language education program, despite the school board having recommended their admission to the Minister.<sup>106</sup>

84. Being interim, the impugned decisions challenged akin to the referendum in Trinity Western and the recommendation made in Commission scolaire. It was the benchers and the Minister in those cases, respectively, whose decisions were subject to the Doré framework. Absent any final decision to issue a licence to Southbridge, the Doré framework does not apply.

85. Said another way, the link in this case between the state conduct at issue and the alleged limitation on Charter values is too tenuous. While the values of security and human dignity are said to underlie s. 7 of the Charter,<sup>107</sup> the Supreme Court of Canada has insisted that "a sufficient causal connection ... is the port of entry for s. 7 claims."<sup>108</sup> The possibility of Southbridge being issued a licence at some point is the kind of "uncertain, speculative and hypothetical"<sup>109</sup> event that does not trigger a Charter protection, whether a s. 7 right or a value underlying it.

86. For these reasons, the Doré framework has no applicability to the case at bar.

E. The Applicants Were Not Deprived of Procedural Fairness

87. The applicants were not owed a duty of fairness, having no individual rights, privileges or interests affected by the impugned decisions.<sup>110</sup> As this Court has reaffirmed, "[t]here is no general common law duty of procedural fairness owed to the public at large whenever a government entity grants a particular person or entity a licence, permission or approval of some kind."<sup>111</sup>

88. If the Applicants were owed a duty of fairness, it was at the lower end of the spectrum. The decisions at issue were administrative and polycentric, affecting the broader public as opposed to specific individuals.<sup>112</sup> They were of lesser importance to the applicants as "concerned citizens" in comparison to neighbouring landowners whose property interests are directly affected by any construction of a new long-term care home facility.<sup>113</sup> While the relevant legislation required the Director to consult the public before undertaking to issue a licence,<sup>114</sup> they had considerable discretion under the statute as to how and when to solicit input.<sup>115</sup> The applicants have not established that they had a legitimate expectation of any different or higher participatory rights.

89. At best, the applicants were entitled to "an opportunity to have some input into the decision making process."<sup>116</sup> That opportunity was required to be fair in all the circumstances, and not perfect.<sup>117</sup> While the applicants challenge the adequacy of the Ministry's public consultation in July 2021,<sup>118</sup> a subsequent one placed no restrictions on the length or nature of submissions that the public could make.<sup>119</sup> Through this latter process, the applicants had the opportunity to, and did in fact,<sup>120</sup> present their views to the Ministry.

90. For these reasons, any minimal duty of fairness was satisfied by the Respondent.

F. The Applicants Seek Inappropriate Remedies

1) No Basis for this Court to Substitute its own Decision

91. The applicants ask that this Court substitute its own decision for those of the Minister and Director, rather than remitting them back for redetermination.

92. It is well established that, in most cases, the appropriate remedy on judicial review is to remit the matter to the decisionmaker for reconsideration with the benefit of the court's reasons. Declining to remit a matter to the decisionmaker may be appropriate where it is obvious that a particular outcome is inevitable and that sending it back would serve no useful purpose.<sup>121</sup>

93. The Court of Appeal recently cautioned against a reviewing court substituting its own legal analysis for that of the decision-maker's:<sup>122</sup>

Where, as here, the reviewing court concludes that the reasons are flawed, for example by failing to follow the applicable law, then the reviewing court should refrain from conducting its own analysis to determine the appropriate outcome. Unless the matter fits into one of the "limited scenarios" described in Vavilov, at para. 142, the reviewing court should instead remit the matter back to the original decision maker to be decided in accordance with the applicable law.

94. None of the limited scenarios from Vavilov – concerns about delay, fairness to the parties, or urgency in providing a resolution – are present in this case. Nor is there any basis to conclude that the Minister and Director would inevitably come to the same decisions if the matter were remitted to them, as the applicants suggest. Moreover, given the Legislature's decision to delegate broad discretion to the Minister and/or Director under ss. 99, 100 and 101 of the Act, this Court should be reluctant to substitute its own view of the public interest in those sections.

95. Finally, the applicants' suggestion that the decisions should not be remitted to the Minister and Director is particularly remarkable, given that the primary basis for their application is their complaint that the decision-makers did not consider information they were required to consider. If that is the case, it is inconsistent to argue that decision should not be remitted to be redetermined on what they say is the proper factual record.

2) Declarations of Past Unlawfulness Are Improper

96. Although not pursued in their factum, in their notice the applicants seek various declarations that the Minister and Director acted "unlawfully, unreasonably, improperly, disproportionately, arbitrarily, and without and in excess of [his/her] statutory discretion and authority".<sup>123</sup>

97. Declaratory relief is a discretionary remedy, available in certain limited circumstances.<sup>124</sup>

98. However, courts have declined to grant declarations that a past conduct is wrong without any implication to the rights of the applicant, on the grounds that such relief is unavailable, amounts to a declaration of fact, or would not address the issues between the parties.<sup>126</sup>

99. To the extent that the applicants can demonstrate any right or interest in the impugned decisions, they are not engaged by a declaration of past wrongdoing by the Minister or Director. The requested declaratory relief should be refused, regardless of the outcome of the application.
